

Assistant Professor- Fall 2008
UNIVERSITY OF NORTH TEXAS, Denton, TX.

Applications are invited for a tenure track position (Assistant Professor) within the Department of Philosophy and Religion Studies, to begin fall of 2008. AOS: in either A) Religion and Nature / Religion and Ecology or B) Applied Philosophy. Our interests in religion include scholars in Buddhism, Islam, or Christianity. Our interests in applied philosophy include bioethics, biotechnology and policy, and nanotechnology and ethics. AOC: Open, but departmental needs include analytic philosophy and/or logic.

As the leading program in environmental philosophy in the United States, the department seeks a dynamic individual who is interested in exploring how their area of expertise intersects with contemporary environmental, cultural, and societal issues. The department is particularly interested in interdisciplinary, field-based philosophic research on issues of local, regional, national, and international scope. Experience and/or interest in working with other humanists, scientists, engineers, and policy analysts is especially valued. Normal teaching load is 2-2.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. by May 1, 2008. The department offers a BA, MA, and PhD in philosophy, and an interdisciplinary minor in religion studies. Located in the Dallas-Ft Worth Metroplex, the university has more than 34,000 students.

Review of applications will begin in October, and will continue until position is filled. Please send a letter of application, your C.V., and three letters of references to:

Philosophy Search Committee
Department of Philosophy and Religion Studies
University of North Texas
P.O. Box 310920,
Denton, TX 76201-0920

Or electronically to philosophy@unt.edu.

Information about the department can be found at www.phil.unt.edu, and inquiries are welcome at 940-565-2134 or philosophy@unt.edu. UNT is an AA/ADA/EOE committed to diversity.