

41st North Texas Philosophical Association April 11 and 12, 2008 on the campus of the University of North Texas, Denton

UNT Participants include:

NTPA MAIN SPEAKERS SERIES

Robert Frodeman

“Philosopher Kings and Bureaucrats”

Pete Gunter

“The Transformation of Analysis in Bergson”

Martin Yaffe,

“Comments on Scott Davidson,’s ‘Is Levinas a Moral Perfectionist? Reading Cavell Reading Levinas””

NTPA COLLOQUIA SERIES

Jordan Batson

“As, when grain is shaken and winnowed: Sight, Errant Cause, and Creation in Plato’s Timaeus”

Nathan Bell

“A Life Story: Ricoeur and Identification with Nature through Literature”

Gao Shan

“The Beauty of Nature from the Perspective of Traditional Chinese Environmental Aesthetics”

Ashley Hardcastle

“A Plural Idealistic Philosophy of Truth: The Coherence Theory of Truth Incorporates the Correspondence Theory of Truth”

Mark Mysak

“The Death of the ‘World’: Modern Science’s Nihilism”

Jonathan Parker

“Intellectual Merit and Broader Impacts: Shifting Paradigms in Science Policy”

Carl Sachs

“The Idea of a Modern Conception of Nature in Nietzsche and Dewey”

Jason Simus

“Ecological Citizenship and Environmental Art”

Over 60 papers during the two day conference, by participants representing 28 Universities and Colleges from 14 states.